SITEVI 2025, Yanmar Vineyard Solutions revolutionizes autonomous viticulture thanks to unparalleled versatility.

Pierry, January 5 — at SITEVI 2025, Yanmar Vineyard Solutions (YVSS) presented two major advances that illustrate our ambition: To offer winemakers autonomous solutions that are ever more versatile, efficient and adapted to the diversity of vineyards.

Our new products, a hydraulic function for the YV01 and the new YV01 XL concept, shape the future of our range.

YV01: Even more versatile with its new hydraulic function – available in 2026

The YV01 is evolving, with the integration of a hydraulic power unit replacing the spray tank.

Thanks to this new configuration, the YV01 can now power a wide variety of hydraulic tools, allowing to multiply the uses: Tillage, inter-row management, maintenance...

This new generation YV01 will be offered for sale in 2026, offering YVSS customers a more complete stand-alone solution than ever before.

YV01 XL: The new concept that expands the horizon of autonomy

A great novelty of the show, YVSS presented the YV01 XL, a visionary concept designed for tall vines.

With a 1.75 m clearance height, this new model offers even more capacity, adaptability and efficiency, while retaining the YV01's technological DNA.

We plan to officially launch this model at the end of 2026. The YV01 XL marks a new step in the evolution of our range.

Our vision: To support viticulture toward greater autonomy, safety and performance

With these innovations, YVSS reaffirms its commitment to providing technologies that transform the daily lives of winemakers, simplify operations, enhance the safety of users and work environments, and contribute to sustainable farm performance.
