About Yanmar

Yanmar Europe B.V. is a subsidiary of Yanmar Co. Ltd., a Japanese family owned business.

Yanmar, founded in 1912, is producer of diesel engines and components, as well as agricultural machinery, mini-excavators and micro cogeneration units.

The engines are used in a wide range of applications for the agricultural, industrial construction and marine markets, both commercial and pleasure.

Approximately twenty thousand people work for the group worldwide, in Asia, the Americas and Europe.

Yanmar Europe is located in Almere, the Netherlands. Activities here include the sales of diesel engines, agricultural machinery and micro cogeneration units to the EMEA markets, the assembly of marine engines and agricultural machinery and the sales and supply of spare parts.

Yanmar is an international operating and thinking organization where different cultures and nationalities are appreciated. Yanmar is known as a well-established brand and wins golden opinions because of its client orientated and subservient attitude towards its customers.
